be made Clerk, the attitude of William WHY ARGUE WITH "MAN LIKE Barnes jr., Chairman of the Republican State Committee, whose opposition to Mr. Smith's candidacy is known, makes the outcome of the contest for clerk-ship one of uncertainty. In the event of Mr. Smith's withdrawal Fred W. Hammond of Syracuse, a former mem-ber of Assembly, may announce his candidacy. William H. Ten Eyck, a Republican leader of the Bronx, is also lips:

as aspirant for the position of sergeantbany. Both were members of the Asembly of 1911.

There is little activity on the surface among the Democratic members with relation to the selection of an Assembly minority leader. The friends of Daniel D. Frisble, last year's Speaker, acknowledge that New York City has sufficient votes to elect Alfred D. Smith to the post, but they insist that it would be bad politics to take the leaders of both houses from Tammany.

Some of them go so far as to assert that Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, has been converted to this view, and they even predict that Mr. Smith will withdraw voluntarily.

"I have made no sort of canvass," and Speaker Frisble to-day when asked about the situation. "If it seems best for the party interests that I should take the leadership again I am willing to do so, but I shall feel no disappointment if some one else be chosen for that post."

Scores of Assemblymen took the oath of office at the Secretary of States office. There is little activity on the surface
